

It's helped the team understand each other

Fathom took a lot of care to understand our organisational structure. And also the results I wanted to achieve with their help. The innovative manner in which they structured our workshops meant the team were interested from the off. They became engaged in the whole process.

Our facilitator was exceptional, relaxing the team during sessions, her experience with people became obvious and impressive. But knowing she was at the end of a telephone to discuss any issues I had, that was a real bonus.

Testimonial

The feedback from our team has really been very good. They understand each other better and get the most from working relationships. The whole process was certainly not “just another team building exercise”.
