

Pulling concepts into tangible strategic change

Fathom has been working with our Executive team to reformulate our strategic vision and help guide us through an organisation-wide change process.

Driven by a severe and fast change in market conditions, we are faced with a requirement for considerable and fast change throughout our business.

Fathom has been working with us to assist in stimulating innovative and fast decision-making and pulling concepts and initiatives into tangible strategic change.

The unique thing about Fathom is their appreciation that each organisational situation is different and so are the challenges facing individuals involved in driving change – their ability to draw on a wide base of learning and practical case studies combined with their intuition and willingness to pull off agenda to help resolve a particular issue is utterly helpful. Fathom has become part of the team

Fathom have also introduced us to Profiles XT and added more rigour to management selection and development. Greater analysis and understand of the skills and qualities we have within the team, and those we are lacking, will be invaluable in achieving the changes we want to make at Skopos.
